

The mould is loaded to the opener with crane

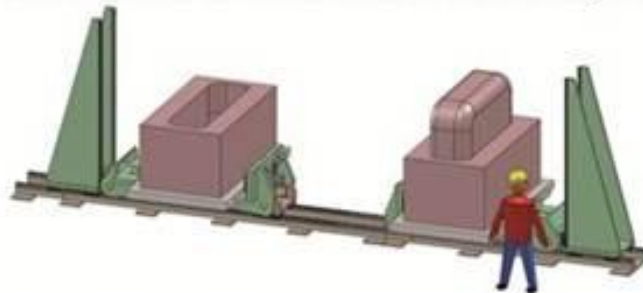

The mould is opened

One of the mould halves are turned to horizontal position

The other mould halves is turned to horizontal position

Both halves easily access for maintenance repair or "rebuilt"